

SCHOOL AND ALUMNI NOTES

At the November meeting of the Yale Corporation, higher requirements were determined upon for the degrees of Master of Laws and Doctor of Civil Laws. This is in accordance with the gradual raising of the standard of the Law School. Details in regard to these will be given later.

Professor Simeon E. Baldwin has been selected director of the Comparative Law Bureau of The American Bar Association. The object of this Bureau is the presentation, discussion and adoption of methods whereby important laws of foreign nations effecting the science of jurisprudence may be brought to the attention of American lawyers and institutions of learning, and become available in the general study of private law. A bulletin is to be published at the end of each fiscal year containing the titles of important legislative enactments and administrative decrees of foreign countries, germane bibliographical notices, etc., this bulletin to be an organ of the American Bar Association. Mr. William W. Smithers, 1100 Land Title Building, Philadelphia, Pa., is the Secretary of the Bureau.
