

The Future of Legal Services:
The Arthur Liman Colloquium Papers[†]

FOREWORD

The Quality of Justice
Lewis J. Liman 287

INTRODUCTION

Legal Services: Then and Now
Judith Resnik and Emily Bazelon 291

PART ONE: THE FEDERAL RESTRICTIONS AND FUNDING CUTS—
EFFECTS ON PRACTICE

Legal Services and the Organized Bar: A Reminiscence and a Renewed
Call for Cooperation
Lawrence J. Fox..... 305

The Transformation of Community Legal Services, Inc., of Philadelphia:
One Program’s Experience Since the Federal Restrictions
Catherine C. Carr and Alison E. Hirschel 319

The Legal Services Restrictions: Lawyers in Florida, New York, Virginia, and Oregon Describe the Costs
David S. Udell..... 337

Civil Legal Assistance for the Twenty-First Century: Achieving Equal Justice for All
Alan W. Houseman 369

† The Yale Law & Policy Review would like to thank Professor Judith Resnik, Emily Bazelon, and Kimberly A. Demarchi for their work in collecting and preparing these papers for publication. The papers were not individually selected or edited by the staff of the Yale Law & Policy Review.

Adapting Without Accepting: The Need for a Long-Term Strategy for “Full Service” Representation of the Poor

Gordon Bonnyman435

Lawyers Matter, Policy Matters: How One Small Not-for-Profit Combats
Discrimination Against Ex-Offenders, People in Recovery, and People with AIDS

Felix Lopez443

The IOLA Fund and LSC Restrictions

Lorna K. Blake455

Poverty Lawyering in a New Millennium

Louise G. Trubek461

An Innovative Approach to Permanent State Funding of Civil Legal Services: One State’s Experience—So Far

Helaine M. Barnett469

PART THREE: MULTIPLYING MODELS

The Legal Needs of the Poor as a Starting Point for Systemic Reform

Denise R. Johnson479

Equal Access to Civil Justice: Pursuing Solutions Beyond the Legal Profession

Karen A. Lash, Pauline Gee, and Laurie Zelon489

Civil Gideon and Confidence in a Just Society

Robert W. Sweet503

Access to Justice and Civil Forfeiture Reform: Providing Lawyers for the Poor and Recapturing Forfeited Assets for Impoverished Communities

Louis S. Rulli507

Toward a Model of Community Representation for Legal Assistance
Lawyering: Examining the Role of Legal Assistance Agencies in Drug-Related Evictions from Public Housing

Robin S. Golden527

Shadow Markets for Legal Services: Beyond the Community-Based Approach

Andrea Christensen Luby.....563

Is Learning To “Think Like a Lawyer” Enough?

Stephen Wizner583

AFTERWORD

Open Letter to Arthur Liman

A. Leon Higginbotham593

