

A Tribute to Judge Richard D. Cudahy

In 1979, nearly twenty-five years after graduating from the Yale Law School, Richard D. Cudahy joined the United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit. To celebrate Judge Cudahy's long and distinguished career as a jurist, the Yale Journal on Regulation has asked a diverse array of contributors, including his colleagues on the bench and his former clerks in the legal academy and in private practice, to reflect on his remarkable legacy and imprint on the law.

